

Crystalline ReGenesis

Crystalline ReGenesis™, an alchemy of mediumship, crystals, and sound, is one of the signature methods of Trinity Thomas's healing and teaching ministry. She works with clients to resolve their history and activate their divinity; to remember who they are, why they came to Earth, and how to embody their destiny.

Trinity was called to Peru in the late 1980's where her crystal healing lineage was activated by the Incan Crystal Guardians, in service of an evolving humanity. Crystals are one of the oldest and most consistent shamanic tools in our planet's indigenous cultures. They have been used through the ages to see distances and timelines (called scrying), energize waters and peoples, and restore health and wisdom. In our current time, our industries have harnessed their piezoelectric affect to direct missiles and calibrate watches, to be the brains for our computers. They are ancient, benevolent, intelligent light infused in geometric form. And great partners for awakening humanity.

From her trainings with Tom Kenyon and Vickie Dodd, Trinity developed her own Infused Sound Transformation System™, then discovered it was an evolution of aspects of the Celtic Shamanism of her ancestors. Sound is another form of light, a carrier wave for intention. Sound can be used to re-weave energy grids. Choices can be anchored as geometries re-shape themselves through the loving application of intentional and infused sound.

Edgar Cayce said the medicine of the future would be sound. Trinity's sounds catalyze memory and serve as a bridge to re-form matter into a higher spiral of itself. She also teaches the activation of our soul's expression through sound.

Crystalline ReGenesis™ involves the use of crystals to form a benevolent null magnetic space around the body to free the spirit to alchemize into its highest and most pure nature, and sound to catalyze the removal of history and the infusion of spirit. Through Trinity's mediumship, these tools combine with infused knowledge to recalibrate embodied divinity. All under the direction of the clients' soul and guidance system. It's the fast track home.
